What enrichment activities have Y8 been up to this week?

Photo	What did you have to do for this activity?	Did anyone help you or take part?
	For this activity I had to place down a cup and get a teabag. You had to see how far away you could stand and throw the tea bag in the cup.	My mum took the photo
How did this activity make you feel?	Would you recommend this activity to anyone? Why?	Has this activity inspired you to try something else relating to it?
This activity made me feel challenged as it was hard to get in the cup.	Yes because it is a fun game and you don't need a lot of materials.	Yes because I would like to get better at my aim.

What did you have to do for this activity?

I had to get some lard and melt it. Then poured 500g of bird seeds into it and mix. After that I let them set and put them outside for the birds to eat.

How did this activity make you feel?

Would you recommend this activity to anyone? Why?

It made me feel a bit disgusted because of the texture of it when we mixed them.

I would recommend it to someone who likes crafts and nature because they would really enjoy the process.

My School Poem

It's time for school,
 Get out your bed.
 Gather your pencils,
 Your paper, your glue.
 For it is time for school,
 with lots of learning for you to do.
 Your teacher is there to greet you in.
 You walk with a smile,
 You'll see that school,
 As it is your most favourite,
 Place in the world.

Hermione Granger

In the first year of Hogwarts she fixed a pair of glasses,
Don't forget she also aced her classes.

She learnt how to float a feather,
Did I forget she's also very clever.

She reads at night and casts spells by day,
She sometimes gets picked on, a muggle they'd say.

With the boys by her side,
Her hands are definitely tied.

Hermione is magical , bold ,brave and strong,
Her best friends are crook-shanks, Harry and Ron.

How did this activity make you feel?

What did you have to do for this activity?

Did anyone help you or take part?

I would because it can get you out the house and once you've found one, you want to start finding others.

My mum spotted one of them and I found the other.

Would you recommend this activity to anyone? Why?

Has this activity inspired you to try something else relating to it?

It made me feel happy but a bit excited because I love butterflies and we have a big garden with flowers so I always get to see them.

It's a check list of Summer butterflies you can find. These were the first ones i've found so far.

I'm definitely going to keep my eye out for some more, especially the brimstone one!

Minecraft Manhunt Poem

It will always begin
With a hit or a swing
I am outnumbered
But I believe I can win

The end I must find
But they are close behind
Though, I tease them
I'm so witty and unkind

I'll do what I must
I just have to trust
That they'll lose me
And be left in my dust

Right on my tail
Without flaw and fail
I swiftly craft
A boat and I sail

Even though that was cool
Those hunters are cruel
If I am to defeat them
I need a better tool

All of them are gone,
But I haven't won;
They're finding resources
Wood, stone, iron

My tools are now better
I am a go-getter
With flint and steel in hand
I build a portal to the nether

My head is now swirling
With purple magic whirling
The hunters have found me
Their diamond axes can sting

Running across the hellscape
I see the shape
Of a nether fortress
In it, I may get a scrape

Entering the fortress
I uncover a mess
Of Blazes, decay,
My hunters and stress

I collect rods of the Blaze
And count all the ways
I can get away from
My hunters' foul play

I find a humanoid creature
That has a snout, a pig feature
It will trade me the eyes
Which I need to reach her

Back at the portal,
These hunters are immortal
They've set up a trap
With lava, it's chock full

After hours of trying,
And almost dying,
I escaped the trap
My whole body frying

Back to earth
Was this progress worth
Defeating my foes
And being showered in mirth?

Combining the eyes
With the rods, to my surprise,
A mystical force
Sent it up to the skies

But I'm not alone
Because standing on the endstone
The hunters are here
Speaking in a mocking tone

After some time, I found
I was sent underground
And I came across a stronghold,
Where a portal was bound

I destroy the crystals that heal;
I'm the dragons next meal,
But she wants some appetisers
And my hunters are ideal

So over I came,
And observed the portal frame
There were slots fitted
For the eyes to be tamed

I attack and defend,
And I can't pretend
That I didn't slay the dragon
And free the end

As I placed the last eye,
The portal gave a cry
And it was complete
In the end, I might die

As I step through the door,
I hear a powerful roar
The Ender Dragon swooped down
And I was shook to the core

In my paws

Morning dew resting upon the leaves,

Shimmering in the sunlight,

Blazing with heat.

Birds chirping in the trees,

Standing tall and strong,

Roots digging deep.

A cave built dark and hollow,

Ivy on the walls,

Hanging with beauty.

Wind rippling through my fur,

Ears pricked,

As I hear a noise.

Two eyes glinting,

Red and evil,

Ready to pounce.

A fox running after me,

Tail trailing behind,

Barking with joy.

I am the prey...

What did you have to do for this activity?

Would you recommend this activity to anyone? Why?

I wrote a poem about a wild cat being hunted by a fox.

If you have the time and like to do things like this, then yes! I found it calming.

He was the singer of queen,
Who loved playing on screen.

He wasn't too keen on cars,
Whereas Roger Taylor liked dropping bars.

Breaking boundaries was his thing,
When on stage he was a king.

The love of his life loved him till the end,
Always there to be his friend.

Even when he was slowly dying,
He kept on trying.

A man, a singer, a king and a brother,
Always and forever.

I did the quick family games with throwing a tea bag from the furthest distance and we got to 4m 53cm. we also already do the regrow your leftovers with the seeds.

My dad took part in the family game and bro helps me and dad with growing seeds every so often.

I had to do 20 minutes of Joe Wicks

It was fun and it makes me feel happy and competitive.

Yes, as long as you get family permission it is fun, and it gets you and your family to play a fun game together.

It has got me to play more games with my family ever so often.

Yes because it is a good way to get exercise

There once was a good idea from school, regarding no home work at all, but some of the tasks were completely aghast like making your own dough balls So I'd rather not do any at all, as some people find sneaky excuses for no work, while others are trying to have a good time. but today I shall try and make Sure not to lie that that enrichment is really really fun.

I wrote a haiku that goes:
 'Sometimes I make art.
 Most of the time it's abstract.
 It can help me cope.'

Nobody helped me with this task.

I put it onto a painting purely because I felt like it.

How did this activity make you feel?

Would you recommend this activity to anyone? Why?

Has this activity inspired you to try something else relating to it?

Happy. This is something I do frequently (if you take away the actual poem) and, though it may not be my best artwork, it brought me joy.

Haikus are very easy to make so if you're not great at writing poetry, I recommend you give this a go.

It inspired me to create more art.

What enrichment activities have Y8 been up to this week?

Year 8 have written lots of fantastic poems this week!

I don't understand?
What on earth is poetry??
How does this thing count?!?!

Flying in a plane
Safer than driving a car
So why am I scared

Hiking: an act that
Consist of going on a
Pretty lengthy walk

What did you have to do for this activity?	Did anyone help you or take part?
Me and my family were very bored, so we decided to do one of the enrichment activities, the tea bag challenge. You had to get a teacup and a tea bag, take turns in throwing it and hope it lands in the cup.	My family took part which consists of my mum, dad and my little sister. Our pet cat chose not to participate but was watching the whole time.
Would you recommend this activity to anyone? Why?	Has this activity inspired you to try something else relating to it?
I would because it is a quick game you can play with lots of people, and you only need a teacup (or any cup) and a tea bag.	We might try something similar

The colour yellow
 It's very bright isn't it?
 Of all the colours yellow was the one I liked
 But blue is great too
 Both the colours make up the sky at different times and it looks unreal
 But it is
 The stars above at night in the blue sky are calming while the sun in the morning looks non-existent against the yellow sky
 Of all the colours yellow and blue are the ones I like
 And I don't mind one bit

(I also made pancakes, they tasted nice)
