The columns (las columnas)

El interior de la Sagrada Família

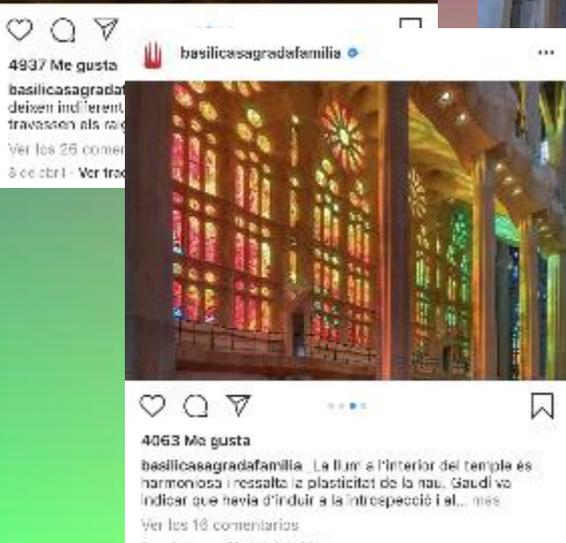

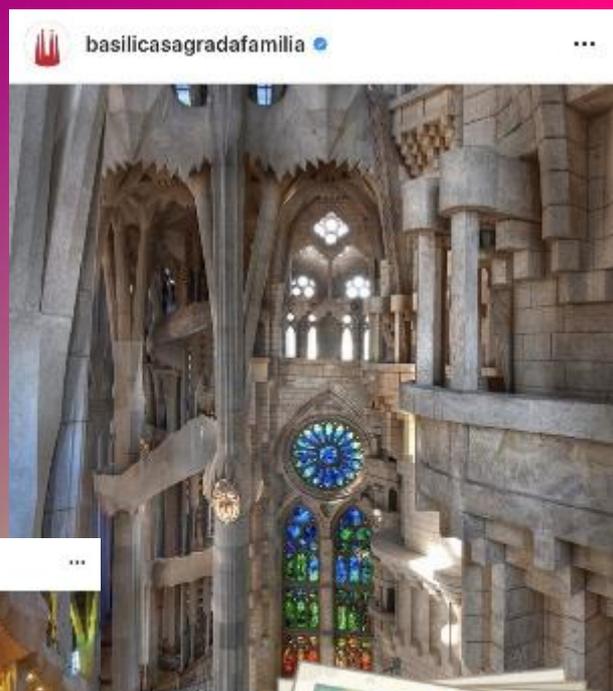

Did you know?
Each column is over 22 metres high. That's the height of just over 5 and ½ double decker buses.

There are a total of 36 columns, made of different materials, and this gives them a variety of colours. Each one has a meaning. The four pillars in the centre of the transept are dedicated to the Evangelists, whose symbols can be seen on the lamps. When the natural light begins to fade, these lamps illuminate the inside of the church with a very colourful light.
